

René Huard

Television Host, Actor, Musician & Published Writer

René Huard has garnered many credits in commercials, television and in the film industry. As the television host of Global Prime's, "Antique Hunter" and "Antique Style", René's notoriety precedes him. René is a well-respected television personality, who is recognized for his knowledge and enthusiasm for antiques. Additionally, he is a featured personality at consumer trade shows and antiques appraisal clinics.

As host of the "Antique Hunter", René has traveled widely in Canada and in the United States, showcasing unique antique destinations and collections. From Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, to Savannah, Georgia, he has roamed through dusty barns and high-end shops, searching for antique treasures. During these adventures, René has interviewed many high profile personalities. He has also been sought after as a celebrity to participate in fundraising events for the Terry Fox Foundation and in the filming of Global Prime's, makeover special for the United Way of Calgary, Alberta.

René is a professional musician. He has entertained audiences for over twenty years, with his vocals, piano, guitar and harmonica. As a musical entertainer, René has toured extensively through North America as the "front man" for the blues and rock band, "The Meteors". Most recently, René has been invited on stage as a guest performer, with Juno Award winning blues artist, Morgan Davis. Currently, René is writing and recording music for a debut CD.

With this wealth of experience and willingness to explore new endeavors, René Huard is an asset to all that he embraces!